

Southeastern Conference For Public Administration is Looking for Volunteers!

The Central Florida Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration (CFASPA) and the Department of Public Administration at the University of Central Florida invite students who are interested in benefiting themselves through experience to join the 2008 SECOPA Volunteer Division!

Information inside of article:

This year's SECOPA conference is taking place right here in Orlando and you have a chance to be part of the excitement! What does being part of the excitement mean for you as a student?

- Volunteer hours for a service learning class.
- Volunteer hours for any honor society, organization, or group.
- Volunteer service will enhance your resume.
- Networking for internships and career possibilities.
- Allow you to help out and donate time to improve yourself.

The conference will be held at the International Hotel Resort and Spa on September 24-28th. We are asking students to volunteer in increments of 2-4 hours. If you feel like this is something that you would be interested in doing and would like to find out more information about the conference, please visit our website at <http://www.ce.ucf.edu/secopa2008/>. Any questions or concerns that you may have can be directed to SECOPA@mail.ucf.edu and one of the members of the conference committee will be happy to help.

We look forward to hearing from you!
