COHPA's Research Faculty Fellows' Program Gets Off the Ground!

Tom Wan, professor and associate dean for research, welcomed the 10 new Research Faculty Fellows to their first class session on Aug. 27. The fellows were selected through an application process and will participate in monthly class sessions on relevant research topics led by experts. Learn more:

UCF In-House Research Grant Training

Barbara Howell, coordinator in the COHPA Office of Research, led a training session on the 2009–2010 solicitation for the In-House Research Grant program. This initiative is for tenure-earning faculty (here six years or less) and provides an opportunity for pilot projects to kick-start research. The deadline for submission is October 5, 2009. For application forms and information, please contact bhowell@mail.ucf.edu.

Thursday's are Important

The UCF Office of Research and Commercialization is hosting lunch-and-learn research development workshops every Thursday through Oct. 8, except for one week when the workshop will be held on Sept. 23, a Wednesday. These one-hour workshops are held at noon in the dean's conference room (HPA I, room 335) and all are open to interested faculty members. Details of the individual workshops can be found on the COHPA Office of Research Web site at www.cohpa.ucf.edu/COR.shtml. Again, space is limited, so please RSVP to Kristin Aiello at kaiello@mail.ucf.edu by the Monday prior to the workshop so we can be sure you have a seat and lunch.

Triage for Declined Proposals

Your COHPA Office of Research will be offering a new service this fall. Faculty members receiving declined notices from funders may request a meeting to review the application and reviewers comments. Every effort will be made to assist faculty members in rewriting and resubmitting a winning proposal.

COHPA Office of Research Update

Nicole Phanstiel and Barbara Howell, COHPA Office of Research coordinators, are now co-located in suite 343 to better serve the COHPA faculty.
