| Monday | Nine Students Attend American Humanics Management Institute Joan Nelson and Stephanie Krick joined nine American Humanics students as they traveled across the country to San Diego to attend the American Humanics Management Institute (AHMI) the first week in January. AHMI is administered by the American Humanics National office and is designed to be a capstone experience in nonprofit management education. In addition to interactive workshops, case studies, and forums, students are able to interview with representatives from national nonprofits such as the American Red Cross, YMCA, United Way of America, and Boy Scouts of America. The student attendees included Jacqueline Benjamin, Eric Bratcher, Evelyn (Bel) Conley, James (Jim) Cundiff, Brittany Dale, Sarah Dillon, Elyse Olson, Jeremy Roth, and Jaclyn SanRoman. Jim Cundiff was also given the honor of being named a "Stardust Fellow." The Stardust Fellowship is a leadership development experience with a goal of building the student leadership capacity within the American Humanics network. Jim was one of only twenty-five students selected nationally for this honor |
