WEEKLY ANNOUNCEMENTS

American Humanics Finds an Academic Home – Welcome

The American Humanics program has found an academic home in the Public Administration Department. This is a natural partnership for American Humanics and will allow a coordinated effort to expand and develop the undergraduate nonprofit management courses.

As the Director Program, Joan Nelson will be part of our faculty starting in the fall 2005 semester. Both she and Stephanie Loudermilk-Krick will share Office 234 creating a centralized place for students interested in nonprofit management to get advising and information working in conjunction with our advisors.

In conjunction with Joan and Stephanie we plan to transition the core courses for the Undergraduate Certificate in Nonprofit Management to the web and to coordinate classes with the American Humanics program.

Summer 2005 Graduation

On August 6th the Master of Nonprofit Management Program graduated its first four (4) students. In addition, twelve (12) students received their MPA and seven (7) students received a Bachelor of Science in Public Administration.

Please take moment to give Bob your input on ways to be an effective program coordinator.
