

BASIC DEGREE REQUIREMENTS IN SOCIAL WORK
BACHELOR OF SOCIAL WORK (BSW) DEGREE

The BSW degree program is an entry level, professional program accredited by the Council of Social Work Education

General University Requirements:

1. Acceptance into the University by completing an application to UCF, which is separate from the School of Social Work.
2. Completion of AA (The Associate of Arts Degree) from a Florida Community or State College or UCF General Education Program and the Gordon Rule.

Note: Transfer students admitted to the School of Social Work who wish to substitute courses taken at other colleges for courses required by UCF's General Education Program must have their petition for course credit approved by the Academic Services, (407)-823-2691, www.academicsservices@ucf.edu. Please see the UCF Catalog for a description of the UCF General Education Program.

Policy & Admission Requirements to the School of Social Work:

To be admitted into UCF's undergraduate social work program, students must be willing to work directly with and on behalf of diverse populations. These include adult men and women, persons of African, Asian, Hispanic, or multi-cultural decent, children, persons with disabilities, older adults, gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender individuals; or persons with HIV/AIDS or other physical, mental conditions and economically disadvantaged individuals. Social work students also are expected to provide services through a variety of helping strategies including but not limited to: assessments, contracting, home visits, office interviews, individual, family, group counseling, referrals, case management, community evaluations, grant writing, advocacy, education and follow-up.

Students, who in the judgment of the faculty are unwilling or unable to meet these expectations, may be denied admission or later may be dismissed from the program.

1. Gain Acceptance into the University of Central Florida.
2. Obtain a minimum of "C" (2.5) Grade Point Average.
3. Complete a declaration of major form indicating Social Work as the major field of study.
4. Complete the BSW Program prerequisites prior to admission to the major. These include:
 - a. POS 2041 American National Government
 - b. BSC 1005 Biological Principles
 - c. PSY 2012 General Psychology
 - d. SYG 2000 General Sociology
 - e. ECO 2013/2023 Macroeconomics or Microeconomics
5. Complete a separate application for the BSW Program

Note: Students are admitted to the Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree program in the Summer and Fall terms, only. If students begin UCF in Spring semester, they may take a social work elective and one (1) core course with the program coordinator's permission.

Prospective or newly admitted undergraduate students need to schedule an appointment with the (BSW) Undergraduate Program Coordinator to review course requirements and expectations of the program. This appointment is an appropriate time for the student to explore with the Undergraduate Program Coordinator his/her reasons for pursuing Social Work as a career.

Students who have a misdemeanor or a felony conviction MUST schedule an appointment with the BSW Program Coordinator to discuss the nature of the conviction. However, this does not automatically preclude your admission to the Social Work Program.

Admission Decisions:

Admission decisions are made by the BSW Admissions Committee in consultation with the BSW Program Coordinator and the Director of the School of Social Work. A student may appeal a decision by following the procedures outlined in the Policy on Appealing Admission to Program found in the BSW STUDENT HANDBOOK.

Status as “Pending Social Work Student”:

A student who does not meet the above admission requirements may be registered as a “Pending Student.” Pending students are permitted to register for two (2) social work courses: SOW 3104 (Assessing I: Human Development) and SOW 3203 (Social Work and Community Resources). MyUCF will not allow pending students to register for other social work courses. Students who are pending need to contact the BSW Coordinator to discuss their situation, follow up on class registration, and update the degree plan. When all requirements for admission are met, the pending student must initiate the review process to change his/her status to Social Work Major by contacting the BSW Program Coordinator. At that time, a change of major form must be completed by the student. The Office of Undergraduate Student Support will be notified to update the student’s major status. They will subsequently contact the student through knights e-mail to complete another form online. Once this is completed, the status change will occur.

Provisional Admission:

Provisional applicants are accepted secondary to the student’s GPA falling below the required 2.5. The School of Social Work provides for admission exceptions of up to 10% of the number of undergraduate students regularly admitted to the BSW Program. These exceptions will be drawn from the pool of students who apply and meet the criteria established for consideration as a provisional student.

Social Work Program Substitutions:

Requests for course substitutions of social work prerequisites and requirements are reviewed and approved by the BSW Program Coordinator. (UCF Social Work students are not given course credit for life experience or previous work experience). Upon approval of the course substitution, a request form is completed by the BSW Program Coordinator and sent to the Office of Undergraduate Student Support for entry into computer file. A copy of the request form also is filed in the student’s folder in the School of Social Work.

Policy on Student Retention in BSW Program:

For a student who wishes to remain as a candidate for the bachelor degree, he/she must:

1. Earn a grade of “C” or better in each required course for the social work major.
2. Comply with the “Code of Ethics” of the National Association of Social Workers (NASW, <http://www.naswfl.org>).
3. Demonstrate particular personal and professional qualifications: intelligence; initiative; social concern; appreciation for differences in others; self-awareness; problem solving ability; ease in relating with others; a willingness to work directly with and on behalf of diverse populations (adult men and women, persons of African, Asian, Hispanic, or multi-cultural decent, children, persons with disabilities, older adults, gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender individuals; or persons with HIV/AIDS or other physical, mental conditions and economically disadvantaged individuals) and the proclivity and skills to provide services through a variety of helping strategies, including, but not limited to: assessments; contracting; home visits; office interviews; individual, family, and group counseling; referrals; case management and community evaluations; grant writing; advocacy; education; and follow-up.
4. Meet with an assigned social work advisor prior to registration each term to review courses, progress and professional advisement.
5. Maintain an overall grade point average of 2.5 in the major for entry into field education and to graduate.

Students who, in the judgment of the faculty, are unwilling or unable to meet these expectations may be dismissed from the program. Students who did not reveal criminal convictions at the time of application may also be dismissed. Retention decisions outlined in the Admissions Retention and Dismissal policies are outlined in the BSW STUDENT HANDBOOK.

Policy on Cultural Studies/Foreign Language Electives:

Social work students who have met the University's Foreign Language Admission Requirement (see the UCF Catalog, <http://www.catalog.sdes.ucf.edu>) may meet their Cultural Studies/Foreign Language (Elective) Graduation Requirement by choosing one of the following three options:

1. An additional one year of college-level proficiency in a foreign language as required for a bachelor of arts; or
2. Six credit hours in cultural diversity studies from the undergraduate catalog; or
3. One additional course in a foreign language and one course in cultural diversity studies from the undergraduate catalog.

This recommended schedule has been developed for who wish to complete only a few University requirements each semester.

Advisement:

Each social work major is assigned a social work advisor by the Undergraduate BSW Program Coordinator. Pending students, receive an advisor when they have met admission requirements and are reclassified as social work majors. Pending students will meet with the Coordinator of the Undergraduate Program until an advisor is assigned. Advisory assignments are posted on or near faculty office doors. You will retain your advisor throughout the baccalaureate program, unless a change is needed. Faculty members also post their office hours on or near their office doors (minimum of five (5) hours per week). If you cannot meet with your advisor during office hours, you will need to schedule an appointment by phoning or e-mailing your advisor or talking directly with him or her. If scheduling remains difficult, the BSW Program Coordinator is available. You are expected to use advisement to plan your academic career, to examine your motivation and the appropriateness of your career goals, to select courses prior to registration, to review progress toward graduation and to discuss any concerns you may have. You are required to meet with your advisor at least once each semester.

Financial Aid:

There are a number of sources of financial assistance available to students. Many types of assistance require separate applications for each semester, while others allow for the application for both semesters to be submitted at the same time. Information can be obtained from the Office of Student Financial Assistance located in Millican Hall. You may contact them by phone (407) 823-2827 or website (<http://pegasus.cc.ucf.edu/-finaid>).

Scholarship Program:

To help aid students in achieving a degree in the field of social work from the University of Central Florida, the School of Social Work offers several scholarships. All students within the school are encouraged to apply by submitting an application that is available on the Foundation website. For the most complete, up-to-date scholarship information, visit <http://foundation.ucf.edu/main>. Applications for all the following scholarships have a due date of no later than September 30th for each calendar year. List of Scholarships are as follows: Patricia Barnes Memorial Endowed Scholarship, Dawn Brett Memorial Scholarship, Marlene Richmond Quasi-Endowed Scholarship, Judith G. Thames Scholarship, and Cheryl Evans Green Scholarship. (All scholarships require an application and essay.)

BSW Student Association:

The School of Social Work is committed to assisting students enhance their learning, network with the community, and provide community service to human service agencies. In order to accomplish this we have a strong student association that meets regularly to schedule the programs requested. Previous activities included educational programs and community service projects like the Angel Tree during the holidays and our food drive. Students have also enjoyed having socials (bowling), helping to coordinate the end of the year graduation/celebration for graduating students and facilitating attendance in Tallahassee for Social Work Educational Advocacy Day. Think about becoming active.

Phi Alpha Social Work Honor Society/Nu Phi Chapter:

The Nu Phi Chapter of the Phi Alpha National Social Work Honor Society was established at UCF in the fall of 2006. Its mission is to recognize and promote scholastic achievement among students and faculty in the undergraduate or graduate social work program at the University of Central Florida. The following are the minimum requirements for recommendation for membership: a declared social work major of at least sophomore status, completed 8 semester (credit) hours or 12 quarter hours of required social work courses, a University GPA of 3.0 (4.0 scale) and a social work GPA of 3.25. One time national dues and yearly chapter dues are the member's responsibility. Members in good standing may wear the Phi Alpha medallion with graduation regalia. You may contact the society at estana@cfl.rr.com

HONORS in the MAJOR General Information

The Burnett Honors College coordinates the Honors in the Major (HIM) Program, which is designed to encourage the best juniors and seniors to undertake original and independent work in their major field. Working closely with a faculty committee, students design an Honors thesis or project. The committee consists of a faculty mentor from the student's major program or department who serves as the Thesis Committee Chair, a second faculty member from the student's major program or department, and a third faculty member from another program or department for a total of three committee members. Additional committee members may be added in consultation with the Thesis Committee Chair (Honors College Handbook, <http://www.honors.ucf.edu>).

Certificate and Minor in Aging Studies

In recognition of the special needs of the older adults in Central Florida, the school offers a 15-credit (18 credits for the minor) interdisciplinary program open to all students in any major as well as non-degree seeking students. This certificate prepares students for careers in applied gerontology, research, public service or for graduate training. Courses focus on the physiological, psychological, sociological, environmental, cultural, legal-ethical and public policy issues affecting older adults. Students majoring in health professions, biomedical sciences, criminal justice and legal studies, hospitality management, psychology, social work, nursing, sociology, business, exercise science, physical education, communication sciences and disorders or education find study of the aging process especially helpful. The certificate may be completed as a fully web-based program. A required internship, along with course options that include service-learning activities, complements the web-based course of study.
